Chic Coastal Casa

With locations throughout the state, Pamela Hughes of Hughes Design Associates knows how to create outstanding contemporary designs that still fit within a classic Floridian aesthetic, as seen in this waterfront estate. Built in the 1980s, this home was remodeled in 2015 with the goal of capturing the styling and technology of twenty-first-century luxury properties. Mark van den Broek of SmartHouse Integration upgraded the technology by integrating all lighting, audio-visual, and security aspects, while Hughes addressed the aesthetics. "Clean and sleek yet comfortable and fun, this home is a reflection of the incredible taste and style of the client," Hughes says. She added a linear, stainless steel fireplace that was "designed for function, as well as for its sleek and modern vocabulary," she explains. White walls and bright custom furniture offer an ideal backdrop to the homeowner's contemporary art collection, ranging from Pop Art prints by Ron English to a Chuck Hoberman sphere that can expand and take on a spectrum of colors. The stunning water view becomes another welcomed work of art thanks to the addition of glass barn doors. Palm Beach (561-491-9797, hughesdes.com)
